Terms and Conditions:

1. The period of the rental is fixed and binding for one year. After the one-year period the contract will continue until termination in writing, and a three-month notice period is required for this termination. 2. The first payment is due on the effective date, and for the remaining of the contract, within seven days of delivery of each month. 3. The floral arrangement remains the property of Urban Rose at all times. If loss of the goods occurs whilst in possession of the client, the client shall immediately pay Urban Rose the deemed cash value of the goods as stated above. If damage occurs to the goods whilst in the possession of the client the urban Rose will attempt to repair the damage and a charge will be levied for the service. If the damage cannot be repaired, the client shall be liable for the replacement of the arrangement at the deemed value of the goods. 4. Urban Rose agrees to rotate the arrangement as agreed above and to provide each arrangement to the quality and standard of the initial goods supplied. 5. The client may extend the agreement beyond the period stated, which will be agreed in writing by both parties. If the term is extended without formal agreement being reached the parties then the conditions stated in no.1 will apply.
